DETAILED ACTION

1. This is in response to the Preliminary Amendment filed on 11/23/1999. Claims 1-22 are canceled. Claims 23-28 are presented for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 23-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Arita U.S Pat. No.5,821,926.

As to claim 23, Arita discloses an Internet information displaying method comprising:

selecting an arbitrary button in said tool bar (see abstract, fig.3a, 3b, col.10 line 62 to col.12 line 63).

Art Unit: 2155

magnifying and displaying said selected button (see col.11 Lines 15-45 and col.20 line 32 to col.21 line 65).

As to claim 24, Arita discloses the state of the selected button is magnified in the direction toward the center of the screen at said step of magnifying and displaying said selected button (see fig.8 and col.15 Lines 13-56).

As to claim 25, Arita discloses characters for expressing the function of the button are also displayed at said step of magnifying and displaying said selected button (see fig. 27 and col.17 Lines 1-26 and col.21 line 5 to col.22 line 60).

As to claim 26, Arita discloses the step of varying the displaying state of said magnified and displayed button when executing the function of said selected button (see fig.1, col.10 Lines 49-60 and col.21 line 5 to col.22 line 60).

As to claim 27, Arita discloses the button is displayed in the depressed state from the screen at the step of varying the displaying state of said magnified and displayed button when executing the function of said selected button (see fig.10, col.17 Lines 1-26 and col.25 line 19 to col.26 line 55).

Art Unit: 2155

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 28 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arita U.S Pat. No.5,821,926.

Arita does not specifically disclose using a wireless remote control to select an arbitrary button. However, wireless remote control is generally well known in the art. It would have been obvious if not inherent to one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to implement a well-known device such as a wireless remote control in the system of Arita to control data because it would have enabled users to access and to control data more quickly.

Other prior art cited

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- b. Carpenter-Smith et al., US patent no.5,838,973.
